提示：隨著社群媒體的普及，表情符號（emoji）的使用也極為普遍。請參考下列表情符號，寫一篇英文作文，文分兩段。第一段說明人們何以喜歡使用表情符號，並從下列的表情符號中舉一至二例，說明表情符號在溝通上有何功能。第二段則以個人或親友的經驗為例，討論表情符號在訊息表達或解讀上可能造成的誤會或困擾，並提出可以化解的方法。

In the context of modern existence, few subjects evoke as much contemplation as the widespread use of emojis in our daily messages. Whether viewed through the lens of social trends or personal experience, it is evident that people enjoy using these symbols because they add emotion to plain text and help save time when typing. Specifically, regarding the images provided in the prompt, one cannot help but notice that the "laughing with tears" face (No. 3) effectively shows something is hilarious, while the "heart eyes" face (No. 4) clearly expresses love or admiration. This phenomenon is not merely superficial; it serves as a mirror reflecting our strong desire to communicate feelings vividly in a digital world.

Reflection & Action While the aforementioned observations provide the context, a deeper reflection reveals significant implications regarding the misunderstandings that can happen when these icons are interpreted incorrectly. If I were to evaluate a personal experience, I would contend that I once caused confusion when my mother sent me the "crying face" because she thought it meant she was sad, but it was actually the "laughing" emoji (No. 3). Consequently, to solve this kind of problem, my approach would be to always use text to explain my true meaning if the emoji might be unclear, or simply ask the other person for clarification. Ultimately, using emojis acts as a catalyst, compelling us to rethink how we express ourselves carefully to ensure our messages are understood.

提示：這個世代的青少年除了有課業壓力外，生活上也常面對一些困擾與挑戰。下列三張圖分別呈現青少年經常遭遇的三種問題，如果你有一個機器人小幫手可以幫你解決其中一個問題，你會選擇哪一個？請寫一篇英文作文，文分兩段，第一段說明你最想解決哪一個問題，並解釋原因。第二段說明你希望這

個機器人小幫手具備什麼特質或能力、可以如何和你分工合作來解決此問題。

In the context of modern existence, few subjects evoke as much contemplation as the intense emotional pressure faced by today's teenagers. Whether viewed through the lens of social trends or personal experience, it is evident that many students feel they must hide their true feelings and always appear happy to fit in with their peers. Specifically, regarding the third panel in the image, one cannot help but notice a young person holding up a smiling mask to cover a face that is actually crying or angry. This phenomenon is not merely superficial; it serves as a mirror reflecting the loneliness of growing up and the difficulty of finding someone to trust with our negative emotions.

While the aforementioned observations provide the context of this mental burden, a deeper reflection reveals significant implications regarding how a robot helper could improve my daily life. If I were to evaluate the three problems presented, I would contend that I most want to solve the issue of emotional suppression because keeping sadness inside is unhealthy. Consequently, to manage my mental health better, my approach would be to design a robot with "active listening" capabilities that can analyze my voice to detect stress and then play soothing music or offer advice to cheer me up. Ultimately, this advanced technology acts as a catalyst, compelling us to rethink how we process our feelings and forcing us to learn that it is okay to be imperfect.

範文 3：末日預言

提示:每隔一陣子總會出現末日預言(doomsday prediction),如日本有位漫畫家預言 2025 年 7 月 5 日會發生強震重創日本和鄰近國家,此預言引發恐慌,甚至影響各國遊客在該月到日本旅遊的意願。你相信這種末日預言嗎?請寫一篇英文作文,文分兩段,第一段陳述你對末日預言的看法(是迷信還是值得參考),第二段說明若世界末日真的到來,你會如何度過。

In the context of modern existence, few subjects evoke as much contemplation as the recurring emergence of doomsday predictions. Whether viewed through the lens of social trends or personal experience, it is evident that such predictions often trigger a mix of panic and suspicion among the public. Specifically, regarding the prediction of a massive earthquake in July 2025, one cannot help but notice how easily fear propagates, affecting even tourism and daily decisions. This phenomenon is not merely superficial; it serves as a mirror reflecting humanity's inherent vulnerability and our desperate need for certainty in an unpredictable world.

While the aforementioned observations provide the context, a deeper reflection reveals significant implications regarding how we perceive the value of our limited time. If I were to evaluate the credibility of these prophecies, I would contend that while they are probably not scientifically accurate, they are a valuable philosophical reminder of our mortality. Consequently, if the end of the world were truly imminent, my approach would not be to give in to despair, but to spend my final moments embracing my loved ones and expressing gratitude for the life I have lived. Ultimately, this doomsday scenario acts as a catalyst, compelling us to rethink how we cherish every present moment rather than fearing a hypothetical future.
